Kohmeini was also a very respected poet and scholar on the Koran and on Sharia law, and wrote many books and interpretations on the teachings of Islam. In Iran Khomeini was basically looked on as a form of prophet with deep spiritual knowledge and wisdom.

There are over 200 books by Khomeini translated into English and most of them available on the web. In Khomeini's writings he openly approves, according to Sharia, for Muslims to have sex with animals, to force themselves on and rape women and to sexually assault even babies.

An excerpt from 'Hal Ataaka Hadeeth ur-Raafidah' by the late Sheikh Abu Mus'abaz-Zarqaawi (discussed here)

"The author of the book 'For Allah, Then For History' [1] mentions to us an event that took place before his very eyes, when al-Khomeini [2] was living in Iraq, and was visiting an Iranian individual by the name of Sayyid Sahib.

Sayyid Sahib then requested that we spend that night at his home, to which the Imam agreed. When it was night time, we were given our supper, and the guests would take the Imam's hand and kiss it, and they would ask him questions, with him answering their questions.

When it was time to sleep, the guests had all left, except for the inhabitants of the house.

Al-Khomeini laid his eyes on a young girl who, despite being only four or five years of age, was very beautiful.

So, the Imam requested from her father, Sayyid Sahib, that he spend the night with her in order to enjoy her. Her father happily agreed, and Imam al-Khomeini spent the night with the girl in his arms, and we could hear her crying and screaming [through the night]."
